

Olivier Metzger // Corps Hospitalier

In 2008 Olivier Metzger photographed the entire staff of the Centre Hospitalier Yves La Foll in Saint Briec. In doing so, he paid particular attention to make portraits that represent not just the individuals but their profession in the same image. This study shows the manpower behind the functioning of a hospital, from nurse and surgeon to cleaning lady and delivery man. All portraits are presented in equal settings, the compilation shows a community of professionals and their patients, giving a behind the scenes look at this hospital through the people who populate it.
